

Interested in Applying to Grad School?

GIGS (Getting into Grad School) is a FREE mentoring program sponsored by the Graduate Diversity Program (GDP) and the Graduate Outreach Recruitment and Retention Project (GMORR) designed to address the needs of undergraduate diversity students with applications to Graduate School.

Participants will be mentored by trained UC Berkeley graduate students on:

- Selection of Graduate Program(s)
- Personal Statement
- Statement of Purpose
- Writing Samples
- Curriculum Vitae
- Funding

For more information please contact:

Graduate Diversity Program

327 Sproul Hall

grad.diversity@berkeley.edu (510) 643-6010

Deadline to apply: September 28, 2012

Space is limited, sign-up today!

Join the Graduate Diversity Program for our GIGS Meet and Greet Mixer!

Thursday, October 18, 2012

Multicultural Community Center

(Hearst Field Annex, Building D)

6:00-8:00pm

Refreshments will be served

